

Larry Giewont a 1968 graduate was Wattsburg's first "premier" athlete, gaining much publicity for his stand-out play. A 3-year letterman in football, basketball and track, Larry was the driving force for many of the team's successes. In football the running game for Wattsburg with Larry at fullback worked to perfection as so many opposing teams could just not stop him. Larry was chosen to play in the 1968 Erie County Save an Eye All Star game. In basketball Larry contributed that extra strength and ability needed to win so many more games. In track Larry ran several of the sprinting events including the quarter mile races. After high school Larry was recruited to play football for Syracuse University. After graduation, Larry worked in the justice system for New York State.
