

When it comes to a true team leader, no Bobcat has ever deserved that title more than 1968 graduate, Dan Brumagin. Dan was a natural leader on Bobcat teams including football, basketball, and baseball and was always willing to share his knowledge with the younger players. At Quarterback, Dan had all around talents of running, passing and on defense, excellent safety skills. In basketball and baseball, he always gave 100% playing a huge role in the success of the team. Dan graduated from Thiel College with a degree in Business Administration, working at the Nationwide Insurance District office in Butler, PA, and serving in the National Guard for 6 years. Upon returning from basic training and while he continued to serve his commitment to the National Guard, Dan joined his father, working 43 years in the family construction business and was even a licensed real estate agent for a time. Dan married Wattsburg graduate, Karen Stimpson and have 4 children, 11 grandchildren and has always supported each of them in their educational and sporting endeavors. Both he and Karen are involved with their church as well as the Wattsburg area community in various ways. In retirement, Dan still helps and oversees the care of his aging mother and is always willing to help family and friends whenever called upon.
